BOUGHT FOR GOOD SILVER.

STOREKEEPERS DOUBTLESS HAVE BEEN DECEIVED. or There is Really Anything Wrong the Big Department Store Men Mean to Find it Out-Silverware Being Sent to Be Tested,

The action of Lawyer Newton Dexter in laying before the Grand Jury allegations that certain firms in this city had been guilty of violating the Silver Stamping law was a subject of discussion in the large up-town dry goods stores resterday. The heads of many of the firms were taken completely by surprise upon reading the story of Mr. Dexter's investigations in yes terdays's Sun. Some of those accused of having violated the law have already sent pieces of their silver stock, selected at random, to be asgayed. The ten firms accused are among the largest and best known in the city. As was said one manager yesterday, they have been building up their trade for years, and the name of any one of the firms accused is known all over the country as a guarantee for henesty. The managers of nearly all the firms in question talked freely upon the subject to a Sun reporter yesterday afternoon. The general sentiment was that if the evidence said to have been collected by Mr. Dexter, that the firms were selling silver articles marked "sterling" and "coin silver," which proved to be below the legal standard of .925, that the blame should legal standard of .0.25, that the blame should not be laid upon the firms, for they purchased the goods as standard and sold it as such, relying apon the quarantees of the manufacturers. Hinon, Hughes & Co.'s representative said: We were very much surprised at the statement made by Mr. Dexter. We had always supposed that when we sold an article of any description it was exactly what we represented it to be. We have always held to the rule that if a customer found that there had been a mistake in any way the money paid was to be returned on application. While we may be guilty in a technical sense of violating the Sliver stamping law, we certainly are not morally to blame. The question of intent would be very difficult to prove. It should be borne in mind that we get all our silverware direct from the manufacturers. With each piece we receive a guarantee that the article is what it is represented to be. It is not common sense to suppose that we can test each piece of silver received by us in order to learn whether it reaches the standard .025 or not. The manufacturers with whom we deal are reputable firms, and of course we suppose that their goods are genuine. If some of them are not, we are not two cones to blame. There are very few persons who can tell by looking at a piece of silver whether it is .025 or not. From the very nature of the case we have to depend on the guarantee of the jobbers and manufacturers. If there is anything wrong the blame les with them."

A bundle of telegrams, received by the firm yesterday from various manufacturers of silver gods, was shown. One read: "We can positively guarantee that the articles sold to you are genuine and as represented." The others were of a similar nature. Yesterday morning the firm sent a dozen or more pieces of silver to be assayed. As one of the managers said, "If there is really anything wrong we propose to find it cut; we cannot afford to be misrepresented in any case." not be laid upon the firms, for they purchased senten in any case."

At R. H. Macy & Co.'s it was said that there might be a great deal of doubt as to whether the big dry goods stores sold goods marked sterling silver that were below the standard. This firm also depended on the guarantee of the manufac-

Stern Bros. Simpson, Crawford & Simpson, H. O'Neill & Co. Enrich Bros., James A. Hears & Sons, and others of the accused firms said that until Mr. Dexter's statement was made public it had been supposed that the guarantee of reputable manufacturers was sufficient towarrant the quality of the goods sold by them.

It was intimated in several quarters that the merpected movement might be a step on the part of some of the silversmiths to ruin the silver trade of the large department stores which are swallowing up the trade of other dealers in that special line.

AN ELECTRIC LIGHT DEAL.

The Edison Company Secures Control of the Citizens' Company of Brooklys. An important electric light deal has just been mated in Brooklyn by which the control of the Citizens' Electric Light Company passes into the hands of its rival, the Ediso Electric Illuminating Company. Until the political revolution of two years ago occurred th Citizens' Company virtually had a monopoly of the business, and even recently, through its infuence with some of the reform Aldermen, it blocked the way of the Edison Company toward wenring some valuable contracts. A few weeks ago the negotiations for the pur chase of the controlling interest in the Citizens' company by the Edison company were begun, R. C. Peabody, Lowell M. Palmer, and Julian Fairchild acting as a committee for the latter. It was authoritatively announced yesterday that the purchase had been effected, although the formal control of the old company would not be assumed by the Edison company until July 1. Fully nine-tenths of the Citizens' stock was held by John Delmar, James Shevlin, Anthony Barrett, Thomas F. Nevins, Bernard Galapher, and ex-Under Sheriff Hugh McLaughlin, and it is their holdings which the Edison company has purchased. The market price of the stock has been recently quoted at 125, but the Edison company, it is said, had to give over 160 for it. chase of the controlling interest in the Citizens

To-day the directors of the Edison Company will meet to ratify the agreement and call a meeting of the stockholders for the same purpose. It is understood that each company will retain its own corporate existence. The six principal owners of the Citizens' stock have been potent factors in the Democratic organization, and it is said that their influence in the Board of Aldermen had considerable weight in inducing the Edison Company to buy them out A member of the Edison Company said:

"Our company, by the use of the Citizens' plant, will be able to reduce the coat of furnishing public electric lights and will enable us to satisfy the municipal authorities." day the directors of the Edison Compar

to Reinsure Its Risks. The affairs of the New York Bowery Fire In surance Company, which went into the hands of a receiver on Tuesday, appear to be in bad shape. After the departure of its former Secretary, Mr. J. Frank Patterson, who is under-stood to be in South America, the directors of the company made an examination of its business, and found, says President Blauvelt, that while the agency business which was conducted at 124 Bowery was in excellent condition, the city business carried on at 161 Broadway was in an inextricable tangle. The fire losses which the company has sustained in the last few months are heavy, and when the company's directors made the best estimate they could of liabilities and assets they found they had only about $175,000 on hand, with outstanding liabilities other than uncarned premiums amounting to nearly $75,000. It was discovered that the last statement made to the finsurance Department was grossly incorrect. Both the unpaid losses and the refinsurance reserve were underestimated. Mr. Hisauvelt says the company is hopelessly ruined. The stockholders will get nothing of the $300,000 capital which they put in. The creditors may get eighty or ninety per cent. of their Claims. business carried on at 161 Broadway was in a the Palatine, which reinsured the Bowery neithed the receiver on Tuesday of its determina-tion to cancel its contract. It retained the first payment made of $100,000 unearned premium to ten of demanding $149,500 which was due to complete the reinsurance deal. Mr. George Rheite, President of the Stuyvesant Insurance Company, the receiver, is now in charge.

John Boyd, Jr., Accused of Burglary.

John Boyd, Jr. 21 years old, a son of the Clerk of the Hudson County Board of Freeholders, was arraigned in Police Justice Potts's court in Jersey City yesterday moning, charged with burglary. He was seen by Policeman Tier in lenry Entton's restaurant at 484 Grove street, just before midnight on Wednesday. He saw the joliteman at the same time and fied through the rear door. He scaled a back fence and the politeman fred two shots after him. Subsequently Boyd was captured at his home, 186 Linkth street. Part of the booty, mostly cigars, was found in the yard. He was committed for trial.

A Little Boy's Ready Knife.

Leo Starvely, 9 years old, of 9 Rankin street, Newark, was arrested yesterday for stabbing a 12-year-old nowsboy named Woodruff. Or Tuesday Woodruff and James McDermott, 11 yearsold, were going over their route in Newark when Starvely, who had a grudge ageinst Mc-Dermott, ran up to him with an open knife and hade a longe at him. McDermott dodged be-blind his companion, and Woodruff received the knife in his aide. It made a dangreous wound, and the boy is now in the Newark City Hos-pial. Starvely was held to await the result of the injury.

Stabbed with a Pair of Shears.

John O'Nell, a carpet layer, while going to his home at 183 Stuyvesant avenue, Brooklyn, on Monday night, was stabled in Reid avenue by Peter Doyle of 221 Reid avenue, who asked for the price of a pint of beer. When the money was refused Doyle, as alleged, selzed O'Nell's carpet shears and stabbed him over the right eye, inflicting a dangerous wound. Doyle was arrested.

RICH MEN'S PERSONAL TAXES.

George Gould Says He and the Estate Have Been Rated Unfairly High. Some of the tetimony taken by W. L. Cannon. Jr., referce in the certiorari proceedings in which the estate of Jay Gould and Jay Gould's children resist paying personal taxes here on the ground of non-residence, is interesting. The Commissioners of Taxes and Assessment put a $10,000,000 valuation upon the personalty of the estate for texation for the year 1804, assessed the personal property of George J. Gould at $400,000, and put an assessment of $100,000 each upon the personal property of Howard, Edwin, and Helen M. Gould.

The Gould children, besides atleging non-restdence, complained that the rewas great injustice done them in the making of the assessment, inasmuch as other wealthy people and estates were taxed at a less rate. George Gould testified that in 1893 no estate was taxed as high as that of William H. Vanderbilt, which was taxed on an $8,000,000 valuation, although the estate was supposed to be worth $100,000,000, with the exception of the assessment which was made against his father's estate, which was put at $10,000,000. He said that Cornelius and William K. Vanderbilt were each taxed on a valuation of $200,000 of personal property, while they were said to be worth $100,000,000. Russell Sage had been assessed on a valuation of $200,000 of personal property, while they were said to be worth $100,000,000. Russell Sage had been assessed on a valuation of $300,000 that year, the Tilden estate on $500,000. He said that there was no taxable property of the estate or of his brothers or sisters in this city at the time of the making of the assessment. There was some non-taxable property here then, but the taxable property had been removed to New Jersey. He had control of his faher's estate up to the time he went to Europe last year to participate in the races with the Vigilant, but surrendered control then to the other executors. For some time past the securities have been in the Mercantile Safe Deposit Company.

All the testimony will be submitted to the dence, complained that the rewas great injustice

VICTORIA WOODHULL SUED.

C. S. Welles Wants Pay for Work for the A motion was made in the Supreme Court, be fore Judge Ingraham, yesterday, on a suit that has been brought by Charles Stuart Welles against John B. Martin, Victoria C. Martin, and Zula N. Woodhull to have certain witnesses ex-amined before a referee before trial. The motion was made by the plaintiff in the case, and the witnesses to be examined are Margaret A O'Halloran and Carrie E. Thompson, who are about to leave for Europe. There was no opposenting Mr. Martin, and the examination of the witnesses will be proceeded with. The suit is one brought by the plaintiff for services. He says that the defendants were a corporation, publishing in London a magazine known as the Humanitarian. He says that on Feb. 1, 1893, he was engaged at a salary of $125 a month to take charge of the American end of the publication. He says he was engaged in the service of the defendants up to March 1, 1895, and in that time all that was paid him was $375. He says that there is due him $2,750, for which he asks judgment. The defendants put in a general denial. The Mrs, Martin in the suit is Victoris Woodhull, and the defendant Martin is her husband. He is the only one of the defendants in this country. The others are in England.

IN THE ROGUES' GALLERY.

The Runaway Son of Dr. Von Klein of Cleveland Classed as a Professional Thief, Edmund Von Klein, the sixteen-year-old son of Cleveland physician, was held in the Jefferson Market Police Court yesterday for stealing $400 worth of clothes and lewelry from inmates of East Twentieth street. He engaged a room there a week ago Monday under the name o Chauncey Rouis, and said his parents lived it Boston. He left the house before the robbery was discovered. Dr. Bissell heard that he was at a laundry at 38 East Twentieth street yesterat a laundry at 38 East Twentieth street yesterday, and had him arrested. Among his effects was a bank book of the Dime Savings Bank, showing $95 to the credit of Chauncey Rouis. He had made deposits every day for the past week. His picture was taken at Police Headquarters and put in the Rogues Gallery.

Von Klein ran away from home last August with money he had obtained by pawning his bicycle. His father came after him twice, and succeeded in finding him, only to have the lad escape each time on the way home. Before his father's first attempt to take him home the boy was arrested for stealing a diamond pin from a boarding house, but was discharged.

The Pight for Edwin Baker's Estate.

The hearing in the suit of Mary C. Baker and John and Frank Baker over the big estate of the late Edwin Baker, was resumed yesterday, before Justice Rumsey in the Supreme Court in Brooklyn. Extracts were read from Mr. Baker's diary, which showed his intense dislike for his wife.

Ex-Alderman Heaney testified that in his opinion Mr. Esker had been irrational for some time before his death. He had noticed a change in his manner after he fell out of a wagon in 1883 and fractured his skull. Other witnesses testified to the same effect.

A Negro Browns Himself.

Joseph Champ, 50 years old, a homeles negro, who had been an inmate of the Colored Home Hospital up to a few days ago, committee suicido yesterday by jumping into the North suicide yesterday by jumping into the North River from Pier 35. Champ made his fatal leap in full sight of a number of men who were working on the dock. Before his would-be res-cuers could get to him he had sunk from view. His body was recovered an hour afterward and taken to the Morgue.

Body Clutmed. BRIDGEPORT, May 23,-The body of the green goods man who dropped dead in a carriage on Monday, near Westport, was taken away this afternoon by a young woman who arrived at Westport this morning and said she was the wife of the dead man. There was a desire on the part of the woman to conceal the identity of the man, but from admissions made to Medical Examiner Powers and from the facts brought to light by a letter received by Coroner Doten this afternoon, it is almos certain that the dead man was Dan-iel Scribner, a well-known bunco and confidence man. The woman who called on Dr. Powers this morning and asked to be allow ed to take the remains away was about 28 years old and propossessing in appearance. She at first gave the name of Mrs. Benjamin Wilson, but on being questioned by Dr. Powers admit ted that it was not her name, She afterward admitted that she was Mrs. Scribner. This afternoon Coroner Deten received a letter from Detective Bryant of Hudson, N. Y., saying that the dead man was undoubtedly Dan Scriber, the bunce man; and the man who called himself David Burke and left so soon after the death of his companion was." Red." Austin. They worked together a great deal.

The woman could not get the personal preperty of the man, which consisted of several hundred dollars, a gold watch, and the horse and carriage. She said she would bring proof that she was the wife of the man, and would return here and secure his effects. From what the woman said the authorities believe that the horse was hired or had been kept at a livery stable on Forty-sixth street, in New York, From the reports received from the towns in the vicinity it is evident the swindlers had planned an active campaign. ted that it was not her name. She afterward

The dead man and his companion had visited the farm of George Davenport in North Stamford, and there represented himself as Charles Gayler, President of the Citizons' Savings Bank of Stamford, and in search of a farm to buy. of Stamford, and in search of a farm to buy, Mr. Davenport's farm was not for sale, but the strangers offered him $50 to go with them the next day and look up farms that were for sale in that vicinity. In filling out the certificate for the removal of the body the woman first gave ber address as 334 Van Sicklen avenue, Brook-lyn. This she afterward changed to West Forty-sixth street, saying the first address was wrong.

ARREST OF A GIRL TYPEWRITER. Accused of Being Privy to a $2,000 Real

Boyens & Co. is the style of a real estate firm which had, until last Monday, an office at Ninth and F streets, in Washington, D. C. The members of the firm are said to be Eugene Boyens and a man named Lewis. A young woman known as May Lewis was employed in the office of the firm as a typewriter. On April 7 John C. Robertson, who says he is a real estate dealer in Washington, paid Boyens, n the presence of Lewis and the $2,000. The money was to be used to buy some real estate for Robertson, which the firm claimed an interest in. After Robertson had ciaimed an interest in. After Robertson had paid over the money he called at the office of the firm several times, he says, expecting to receive some return for his investment. He didn't get anything but excuses. He made an investigation and learned that Boyens & Co, head no interest in the property. Boyens & Co, head that Robertson was making inquiries, so on last Monday the two members of the firm, with Miss Lewis, left Washington.

Robertson had borrowed the $2,000 from a friend named McAdams. He explained to McAdams how he had been duped, and the two men, having learned that the two members of the firm and their typewriter had started for this city, followed a few days later.

While Robertson and McAdams were walking along Broadway, near Fourteenth street, yesterday afternoon, they saw Miss Lewis, the typewriter, in front of the Morton House. They called Policeman Drummond of the Mercer street police station and had the young woman arrested.

She was taken to Jefferson Market Court, and after Justice Simms had heard the case, he decided to hold her as a fugitive from justice. Robertson says Miss Lewis was present when he paid over the $2,000 to Boyens, and he accuses her of acting in concert with the two partners to defraud him.

The young woman took her arrest coolly, and refused to make a statement until she had seen paid over the money he called at the office of the

to defraud him.

The young woman took her arrest coolly, and refused to make a statement until she had seen a lawyer. Her examination will take place to-morrow morning, when it is expected that extradition papers will be on hand to take her to Washington.

THIRSTY SHERIFF'S MEN. Pendergast's Stock of Liquors Suffered, but

William C. Pendergast had an action on trial before Judge Dugro of the Superior Court yesterday to recover $2,500 damages from ex-Sheriff John B. Sexton on allegations that the Sheriff had wrongly seized his saloon at 1,550 Avenue A and had drunk up (by his assistants as agents) a large amount of spirituous and other liquids. The place was seized on June 28 last on an attachment against Stephen Pendergast, father of the plaintiff. Deputy Sheriff Daniel E. Finn, at present an Assemblyman, had served the attachment, but assistants took the saloon in charge. The plaintiff said that while the Sheriff was in Justody four dozen bottles of Rhine wine, four cases of Dublin stout, and a number of bottles of other layors singer als and release. four cases of Dublin stout, and a number of bottles of other liquors, ginger ale and mineral waters, besides a lot of cigars disappeared. On cross-examination by Abraham Gruber, the Republican politician, he was arked:

"Do you mean that a deputy sheriff would drink soft stuff while hard liquor was at hand?"

"All I know," said the witness in deep study, "was that the bottles were full when they took possession and wore empty when they left."

It appeared that the name of Stephen Pendergast was over the saloon door and that the license also was in the name of the father. The jury found for the defendant.

A Dummy Saloon Keeper in Trouble, United States Commissioner Alexander held John Weckiewitz yesterday for examination to day on a charge of running a saloon at 90 Chris tie street, without having paid the special Gov-ernment tax. Weeklewitz said the saloon was owned by the Stephenson's Brewing and Mali House Co., of Thirty-ninth street and Tenth avenue, and they had recently placed him is charge of it.

85.265 for Tompkine's Bondsman to Pay Judgment for $5,265 was entered yesterday against William Lockman by Stern & Rushnore for the Irving Savings Institution of the City of New York. Mr. Lockman was on the bond of Daniel D. Tompkins, who was book-keeper and paying teller of the bank. The bank alleged that Tompkins misappropriated more than $5,000, and it sued Mr. Lockman for the amount of the bond.
